(VKWY 62000/63000)

SKF bearing technology has been a part of the vehicle industry from its invention. We have been leading the way, setting the world's standard for quality, and providing the technology needed for new levels of vehicle performance and reliability. With new innovations and developments, SKF helps you move your business and your vehicles forward.

Ride safe and ride smooth with SKF Steering races kit. Ideal after-market solution for two-wheeler owners and workshops looking for OE quality.

SKF Steering races kit holds two sets of outer and inner rings along with the specified number of steel balls. When you specify SKF Steering races kit, you have the reassurance of perfect-fit parts from the world's largest bearing company, installing confidence in your motorcycle.

The advantage of SKF Steering races kit is that the balls used have high quality and dependability, leading to the best performance in the steering assembly. SKF balls have a unique ability to retain their original spherical form which ensures that no marks are left on the raceway due to any non-rotation of the balls, thus reducing any discomfort for the driver. SKF steel balls hold the most accurate dimensions and provide longer trouble-free operation of the steering assembly to provide the customer with the most reliable solutions. SKF Steering races kits are supplied with OE quality outer and inner rings.

At SKF, we never compromise on quality and sell only high performance parts and products. SKF quality assures reduced installation problems in the workshops, reduced performance problems down the road and reduced losses due to returns and defective parts.
